Victoria Hangs Out Welcome Sign to Rotarians

Looking at a banner from the Buenos Aires Rotary Club are Verne Davidson, of Victoria Rotary Club, and Rotary Foundation scholar Ali Asgar, of Suva, Fiji, Rotary Club.—(Colonist photos by Jim Ryan.)

Flag-waving Rotarians are Jack Housez of Victoria, acting conference chairman, left; Donald Weaver, president of the Rotary Club of Seattle, and Jim Sullivan of Bremerton.

Talking Politics

NO HELP WANTED: One of the frustrations of being a member of the opposition is the almost certain knowledge that no matter how good a proposal you put before the government it just won't be accepted.

This fact of political life is by no means unique to B.C. But when a suggestion is made by the opposition it is invariably rejected, not on the merits of the case, but apparently because the government feels that if the idea was any good in the first place it would have come up with it itself.

Included in legislation now before the House is a new Motor Vehicle Act which, among other things, will permit motorists to make right-hand turns against red lights. A private bill calling for this was introduced in 1954, 1955 and 1956 by Victoria Liberal George Gregory. On all three occasions his idea was rejected by the government.

But the most glaring example came last session when the late Ernest Winch, CCFer from Burnaby, introduced a motion calling on the federal government to increase old-age pensions. The motion was defeated by the Socred government, which then turned around and passed another motion almost word for word the same but introduced by Alex Matthew (SC, Vancouver Centre).

LOADED QUESTION: Every session the opposition asks dozens of questions, gets dozens of answers, while dozens of queries are left to die unanswered on the order paper.

Observers are wondering whether the first question asked this session is going to fall into the latter category. The question: What were the election expenses declared by Social Credit, the Liberal Party, and the CCF in last September's provincial election?

In view of the frequent charges that Social Credit has huge campaign funds at its command the answer could be quite interesting.

CAUSE FOR ALARM: Speaker Thomas Irwin was informed the other day that the ornately-carved wooden facade immediately behind his chair had taken on the appearance of the Leaning Tower of Pisa and looked as if it might topple.

This tall structure was so angled that if it did topple, it would fall right on top of Mr. Irwin's chair.

A new addition was noted Friday. A strong wire had been used to bolster the tilting facade—removing one hazard from the job of being speaker of the B.C. legislature.

LEGALISTIC LINGO: Pity the plight of the 47 non-lawyers in the legislature who so often are forced to scratch their heads in bewilderment when the four learned legal brethren really get wound up.

Complicated courtroom language is thrown across the floor quicker than you can say fiat and feasance whenever Attorney-General Robert Bonner, Victoria's George Gregory, CCFer Gordon Dowding of Burnaby and Education Minister Leslie Peterson get the floor.

This trend toward everything legalistic has even spread to the explanatory notes which are supposed to explain, in simple terms, the purpose of newly-introduced legislation.

More often than not these notes just say "self explanatory," which they are not, or still further complicate the issue as was the case in an amendment to the Laws Declaratory Act. The "explanatory note" was:

"This abolishes a very old rule which briefly was that 'you cannot have a limitation for the life of an unborn person with a limitation after his death to his unborn children to take as purchasers.' The rule was originally formulated to obviate the necessity of waiting perhaps for years to ascertain whether or not such a limitation would have effect. The rule has been abolished in most other common-law jurisdictions as being of no use."

Three of the four lawyers discussed this subject with some glee but the other members . . . ah, well, they didn't want to speak anyway.

Three-Hour Dance

U.S. Indian Tribe May Join Festival

The big annual Vancouver Island Indian Festival this year may feature a colorful Makah tribe from Neah Bay, Wash., performing an unusual costume dance that lasts for three hours.

Chief Percy Ross, president of the Vancouver Island Indian Association, said that plans and program of the giant festival were resolved at a meeting of clan chiefs yesterday during a winter dance of Salish bands at Songhees.

Mr. Ross said that the Makahs may attend if the festival, held here May 19 and 20, does not interfere with the commercial fishing season.

Between 4,000 and 5,000 Indians from Vancouver Island and the mainland are expected to gather at Maple Bank for the festival, which will include war canoe races by international Indian crews for the coveted trophies originally presented by Lieutenant-Governor Frank Ross and former lieutenant-governor Clarence Wallace.

Assault Tactics Lesson Set

About 70 men of 2nd Battlion, Queen's Own Rifles, will take part in assault boat training all day Monday at Esquimalt Lagoon.

Using six collapsible craft made of wood and canvas, the men will learn the methods of sitting and paddling the boats while carrying medium mortars, machine guns and recoilless rifles.

Taking the training are "new soldiers" and men of assault pioneer platoon.

Blueprint for Future Ready by Christmas

Guide Features Roads, Land-Use

By R. O. MARRION

At the end of this year if all goes well, the Greater Victoria municipalities and the provincial government will receive a Christmas present that they can sincerely greet with cries of, "Just what we've always wanted!"

The present will be an overall capital region plan, a guide for the development of Greater Victoria and the Saanich Peninsula in the next 20 years.

The complicated, persevering work of preparing it have been in progress for more than two years now, but much remains to keep the staff of the Capital Region Planning Board busy through the spring, summer and fall before the plan can be completed.

The plan, according to Brahm Wiesman, planning director of the board, will chiefly concern two aspects of the region's development: roads and land-use. But it will also serve as a guide to the area's future requirements of schools, parks and other public facilities.

Already, from information laboriously gathered and tabulated and plotted and interpreted, some recommendations are predictable. One for instance, is that Victoria will be urged to keep its downtown commercial area from spreading out, and to encourage concentration instead, as long as parking facilities are adequate.

(A map overlay showing commercial properties with assessed values of less than $5,000 in downtown Victoria is shockingly peppered with colored rectangles.)

Already Started

Another recommendation was so obvious early in the study that it couldn't wait, and is being carried out: development of an east-west main thoroughfare in Saanich.

The plan will look forward to a population of between 200,000 and 225,000 persons in the capital region, with Langford and Colwood included in the urban development.

The small staff of the board has been using several approaches in finding for what it should plan. One is a study in detail of the "economic base" of the community, an inventory of all the economic activities in the region, and an anlysis of how much land area each type occupies.

This study will enable a forecast to be made of the economic activities in the region in the future, how 200,000 or 225,000 persons will occupy themselves and how much land they will need for homes, business and recreation.

Some factors, of course, are unknown. "We can hardly say the answer will be finite, but this is an informed approach."

Another phase of the same study will be to obtain a reliable answer to a question that up to now has been answered only in generalities: How many retired people come to Victoria? The board is sending out questionnaires that will give it a clear picture of what is happening.

Already started is a study of transportation. In progress now is a "spread and delay" study on about 25 main routes, intended to give the board a picture of traffic congestion as it now exists.

A third and extremely important phase will be an "origin and destination" survey, "to get a picture of the direction of the main movements of traffic without regard to the actual streets used."

Implementation of the regional plan after it is presented to the provincial government and municipalities will be by way of zoning by-laws, insofar as it concerns the amount of land that will be required for the different purposes, and through public works measures insofar as it concerns the regional road network and the provision of public facilities.

In this connection, the plan is likely to suggest longer-term budgeting for capital expenditures than is now common in Greater Victoria—looking ahead for periods of perhaps five years, and spending in an orderly way instead of spasmodically.

BRAHM WIESMAN

Wiesman To Speak

Progress in preparation of a regional development plan for this area will be the topic of a speech Thursday by Brahm Wiesman, director of the Capital Region Planning Board, to the capital region branch of the Community Planning Association of Canada.

The general meeting is scheduled for 8 p.m. at 902 Government.

'Imagine It!'

Victoria West Horrified By Stable Idea

Cries of tally-ho and yoicks do not stir the sporting instincts of West Victorians.

The community association of the city's west end made it clear Friday that they want no horsing around, such as tally-ho stables or a rendering plant upwind of residents.

At a special meeting of the Victoria West Community Centre, motions were passed to send protests to city council with copies to the publicity bureau and B.C. government in both instances.

A proposed rendering plant in the industrial reserve would be "right in the path of prevailing winds like low tide in the mudflats 24 hours around," said Victoria West's unofficial mayor Charles Banfield, re-elected president of the centre.

Regarding the "terrible" state of the reserve, Mr. Banfield said that additional letters would be sent to the minister of lands requesting that no further leases of reserve property be granted until the city provides "proper sewerage and other services; and to the city pointing out "illegality" of permitting such provincial leasing without provision of these services.

Tally-Ho: the hay-burning mode of sightseeing, plans to erect new barns at Bay and Wilson, Mr. Banfield said.

"A horse and manure yard at the front door of Victoria West and Esquimalt," he exclaimed. "Can you imagine such a condition?"

Extension Speaker

Willard Ireland, provincial librarian and archivist, will be guest speaker for the University Extension Association of Victoria Monday. Annual "open house" of the extension department will be held after the lecture.

School Tax Revolt Backed in Saanich

Full support of MLA John Tisdalle's "revolt" against the government's proposed policy of tax exemptions for private schools was given the member last night by Lionel Speller, Saanich Social Credit constituency president.

"I support the member 100 per cent on this decision," Mr. Speller said. He said he believed the majority of party members in Saanich also supported the move, but he didn't prefer to "commit them" until a general meeting is held.

Mr. Speller said he agreed calling for province-wide plebiscites to decide the school exemption and Sunday sports questions.

"Mr. Tisdalle defeated a Liberal candidate last September who emphatically favored tax exemptions for private schools," he said. "That should speak for

Carol Larsen Bride Of James E. Siddall

Baskets of pink tulips and narcissus decorated Kingdom Hall on Saturday evening for the wedding of Carol Arlene Joan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alf R. Larsen, 139 Helmcken Road, and Mr. James Edward Siddall, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. Siddall, North Battleford, Sask. Mr. David C. Porter officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

A waltz-length gown of shimmering ice blue satin with fitted bodice and full skirt was worn by the bride who walked to the altar with her father. Her portrait hat of matching satin was swathed with pale blue net and and her bouquet was of Tawny Gold roses. A black diamond necklace and earrings completed her ensemble.

Miss Maureen Mansergh, maid of honor, and Miss Claudia Houle, bridemaid, were in peach and pink violet taffeta, respectively. Their dresses were styled with round necklines, panneled skirts, and their headdresses were of shirred net in the same colors. Both carried bouquets of matching carnations.

Mr. Ross Hargreaves was best man and Mr. Curtis Larsen, brother of the bride, ushered.

A reception and dance followed in the Newstead Hall when a buffet supper was served under the direction of Mrs. J. Bednarz and Miss Esther Marshall. The bride and groom cut a wedding cake made and decorated by the bride's mohter.

For a honeymoon up-Island the bride travelled in a blue gray suit, blue gray tweed topcoat, pink straw hat and pink and beige accessories. Her corsage was of Tawny Gold roses. The newlyweds will make their home at Gull Road, View Royal.

Veterans Celebrate Birthdays

A party celebrating the birthdays of five patients was held in the lounge of the Veterans' Hospital this week where over 60 patients and friends gathered. The honor guests were J. McIlmoyl, aged 86; D. Moodie, 88; P. McDonnell, 83; T. Webb, 80, and T. Shen, 80.

As usual Al Smith presided at the piano and the guests enjoyed a song-fest of First World War song hits opening a program under the chairmanship of George Barton and Charlie Wilkins.

The "beauty contest" was won by Mr. McDonnell and Mr. Lord won the guessing contest.

Miss E. Duff sang several familiar songs and Mrs. Crimberback gave selections on the autoharp.

Commander J. D. Garrard took the assembled company on a "trip" to the British Isles, France and the Channel Islands by way of colored pictures he had taken in these countries recently. Of special interest to the patients were pictures taken over country which they had known as battlefields in the First World War.

Miss MacLeod, director of nursing services, DVA, Ottawa, and C. C. Goster, Dominion director for the B.C. Army, Navy and Air Force Veterans of Canada were present and addressed the gathering.

The 15-pound birthday cake made by cook W. H. Kilbey in the St. Patrick's Day motif was the piece de resistance. After the guests of honor had blown out the candles the cake was cut and served to all the guests.

A demonstration of spring floral arrangements and a talk on care of flowers will be given by Mrs. Shirley Mc Aree, above, at 2 p.m. Wednesday, March 27, in the lecture room of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, sponsored by groups of the Women's Guild. Afternoon tea will be served under the convenership of Mrs. J. Clay, assisted by Mrs. R. Morrison and Mrs. R. Armstrong. Tickets are available from group members. Photo by Bud Kinsman.

Queen's Diet Enrages French

. . . Plainly Worried

By TONIA SCHILLING

PARIS—News that Queen Elizabeth, on her forthcoming state visit here, is to be entertained at formal banquets consisting of only three or, at most, four courses has set French restaurateurs and gourmands raging almost incoherently into their bisque homard.

They view this as a dangerous concession and the greatest victory yet for what is derisively termed among hard-eating Parisians as "diet propaganda." Plainly, they are worried at the effect the queen's restrained eating habits may have on Frenchwomen, already becoming more calorie conscious than ever in their history.

Charles Dulargre, of the Paris restaurateurs' association, said his group had considered issuing a formal protest, then "for the sake of international amity" decided against such a drastic step. Instead, it is planning a counter-propaganda campaign to convince Frenchwomen that dieting is the bunk, queen or no queen.

"For hundreds of years, the women of France never thought of dieting, the word had not even been invented," he declared. "They were none the worse for it. Frenchwomen have always had glorious figures, ranging from slender to lusciously plump. But they could—and did—match any man at the table.

"That is one of the big reasons why French cuisine has attained such heights—because our women enjoyed eating as much as our men." But, make no mistake about it, if the women stop eating, they will see to it that their husbands stop eating, too. No woman can stand watching someone else eat well if she can't."

Who decided on the size of the banquets to be set before the queen is a secret of state. It never has been officially revealed that Elizabeth diets, but the general belief is that she does or, at least, maintains a firm watch on her calorie count. At 31, she is slimmer than she was at the time of her marriage nine years ago.

Monsieur Dulargre and other desolated French champions of the top heavy table point out that when her great-great-grandmother, Victoria, visited Paris in the middle of the last century even "casual" dinners in her honor were never less than 11 courses long.

The diet mania has struck here only within the past couple of years. For the first time, French magazines are carrying diet menus and featuring articles on how to plan calorie-light meals for the whole family.

"Women dining out order yoghurt for dessert, instead of patisserie, entrecotes without sauce bearnaise," cried Monsieur Dulargre. "It is disgusting."

Model Loves Races

By EILEEN LEAROYD

Today we present a titian-haired model who came all the way from Sydney, Australia to be in these photographs.

This fashion department was not exactly on its toes, as she actually arrived in this country in 1951. She married a Canadian two years ago and her name is Mrs. Joan Warnock.

From beautiful Sydney Harbor to Victoria's Inner Harbor is a lengthy ocean voyage and Joan made the 22-day crossing in a passenger-freighter called the Lakemba.

Once here, she didn't waste a minute seeing as much of Canada as possible and for an Australian, she has probably seen more of Canada's hinterland than most local city dwellers.

"It's strange," says Joan, "in my own country I had seen very little of the 'outback' except for a few weeks on a sheep station, but here I started right in to learn all I could about the country in the shortest possible time."

Mrs. Warnock travelled from Australia with a girl who married a Canadian bush pilot. She was their guest at Terrace, B.C., and with them she flew over Kitimat and Kemano and travelled to many other remote spots. Later she spent a summer on a Saskatchewan farm with other friends. She met her husband, J. N. Warnock, in Vancouver, and they have lived in Victoria the past few years. Mr. Warnock owns a paving business here.

Apart from her accent, Mrs. Warnock can be found out as an Aussie by her love of such things as lotteries, horse-racing and other allied arts. In Sydney she regularly queued for state lottery tickets and the finest music to her ears is the happy sound of galloping hoofs.

"We have horse racing every day in Sydney all the year round," she reported nostalgically. "Then if we want a little variety there are the country races."

In the photograph taken in the Oak Bay Beach Hotel, Joan models a spring-into-summer cocktail dress.

This effective frock designed by "Vanity" is an adaptation of fish-net posed over silk. The line is very simple from the graceful scooped neckline to the slim skirt and this serves as a contrast for the exaggerated bow at the side.

The cummerbund is fashioned from softly-folded nylon and the nylon bow is detachable with the smallest "invisible" dome-fasteners. The fish-net is black, the silk is white, and the price is $35.

Life Vivid for Peggy Cripps Wife of African Politician

In 1954 the world was startled when Peggy Cripps, daughter of the British statesman, Sir Stafford Cripps, broke from her past to marry Joseph Appiah, the law student son of a leader of the Ashanti tribe in Africa's Gold Coast. Since then she has lived the life of an Ashanti's wife and borne two children to her husband, now a leader of the opposition party in Ghana. This exclusive article proves that, for her, the village of Kumasi in Ghana is "home."

By PEGGY CRIPPS APPIAH

KUMASI, Ghana—Ghana is now independent and the flag that flies over the historic fort at Kumasi is no longer the Union Jack. Celebrations are over and the country is back at work after the flag waving and rejoicing of the last week.

During the last year my Joe has worked without ceasing both in the law courts defending members of the opposition — often arrested on purely made-up charges — and at his political work as member of the executive of the opposition National Liberation Movement. It has been a period of almost constant political anxiety and independence is not likely to decrease the pressure of work.

Our personal life is colored by Joe's political activities. There are constant comings and goings in the house, emergency meetings, press conferences, groups of villagers will arrive late in the night to report disturbances and arrests and ask Joe to accompany them to the police station. Kwame, now nearly three, enjoys all the visits and stands with wide open eyes or curls up on the lap of one of the visitors.

In April, I shall take the children to see my family in England for two or three months. As there will be so many important decisions taken on the future of the country, my husband will unfortunately be unable to go with me.

When we return we hope to move into our own house, which is now half built. These last days I have wished that the house were completed, for many visitors to Ghana celebrations have come to Kumasi to see something of Ashanti and meet the opposition. We have had personal friends from Greece, Burma, America, Canada and other parts of Africa. The Canadian delegation presented the Asantehene (tribal chief) with a fine engraved silver box commemorating Ghana independence, and invited him to visit Canada.

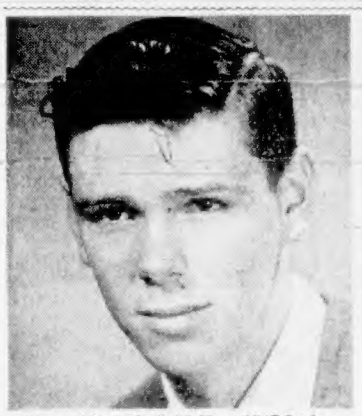
For the last month we had talked and thought of little but independence and constitutional problems. Joe had to go to Accra to attend the last sitting of the old assembly and on the day before independence, the wives of two other Ashanti assemblymen and I drove the 170 miles through the forest to Accra. Joe and other opposition members share a house in Accra and it was our first visit to their bachelor establishment and for us a real holiday outing.

I had been able to leave Kwame and Amma with their grandmother and so had no anxieties. We returned to Kumas the following day and went to most of the parties which now seem to me almost like family gatherings as I know so many people in Ashanti.

We attended the speaker's reception wearing white Kente clothes (tribal costume) and together with all the other members of Parliament and their wives, were introduced to the Duchess of Kent. Some, including Joe, had the honor of a few minutes' talk with her.

Joe was surprised to find that she knew all about Kwame and Amma, and enquired after them. We also met Mr. and Mrs. Nixon and the American delegation, who showed great interest in Ashanti affairs.

Looking round on the eve of Independence Day, I recognized friends from all over the world and it was good to know that they were sharing our excitement at the rebirth of our country. At midnight the Union Jack was lowered and the cheering and fireworks drowned the last speeches being made inside the house. Government members surged from their benches singing party songs and carried the prime minister shoulder high through the doors.



Mr. and Mrs. C. J. McKay, 1047 Lodge, announce the engagement of their elder daughter, Marnie, to Mr. Gary Crowe, son of Mrs. E. Crowe, 156 Lurline. The marriage will take place on April 6 at St. Luke's Church. Attendants will be Miss Shirley Crowe, sister of the groom, maid of honor; and the Misses Judy and Jerry McKay, sisters of the bride, bridesmaids.—(Photos by Howard Phillips.)

The engagement is announced of Bernice Mae Anders, daughter of Mrs. Anders, 2095 Oak Bay Avenue, and the late Mr. W. Anders, to Mr. Charles Rudolf Seyfert, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rudolf Seyfert, Katerinaberg, Czechoslovakia. The marriage will take place on April 20 at 8 p.m. in Christ Church Cathedral. The bride-elect is a graduate of St. Joseph's School of Radiography, Class '55. Mrs. A. de Goutiere and Mrs. G. Callow, sisters of the bride, will be bridesmatrons, and her niece, Juliette de Goutiere, will be flower girl. Mr. Gordon Kidd will be best man for the groom, who is a graduate of the Bavarian Academy of Art, Munich—(Photos by Leonard Holmes.)

Brigitte Goes Home to Her Mother

PARIS—Brigitte (The Sex Kitten) Bardot has done what countless other women have done before her. She's gone home to mother.

And is her film-director husband, Roger Vadim eating his heart out for her? Not noticeably.

When we met him this week he was drinking whisky at $2 a shot with a blonde-haired cutie from Denmark. Name of Annette Stroyberg.

Annette has ice-blue eyes, but, it seems her heart is warm. Especially for M'sieu Vadim. "I intend to marry him," she told us calmly.

M. Vadim beamed at the world over the top of another two dollars' worth of whisky. "So calm she is. So quiet. So uncomplicated. I am very 'appy."

Meanwhile Brigitte is busy building up a bachelor-girl home for herself and we're glad to report that she'll be a near neighbor of this column, having bought a four-room apartment in the expensive Avenue Paul Doumer, just across the river from the Eiffel Tower.

She's been at the department store spring sales this week — stocking up in sheets, towels and table linen and fighting her way through the crowds of bargain-hungry housewives who didn't give her a second glance.

Dour, 64-year-old Paul Getty, the American oil king who has been too busy to set foot on American soil in the past five years, brought his good friend, Penelope Kitson, over from London to launch his huge 53,000-ton tanker at Dunkirk the other day — and set the gossips' tongues a-wagging.

Mrs. Kitson — 30 years younger than Getty — is the handsome mother of three children whose marriage to a wealthy English army officer was dissolved two years ago. Getty, five times married, is now waiting on his fifth divorce and expects it to be finalized in California by the end of the year.

Hot tip from the Riviera grapevine. Sir Winston Churchill has developed a passion for flapjacks — and sees them spread thickly with mustard.

BRIGITTE BARDOT

The sign on the sidewalk outside says "Oxygeno Relaxation: First Floor." It's the latest Paris fad — the newly opened oxygen bar where you go in and order yourself a pre-luncheon sniffer — of fresh air.

We went in for a quick mask-full and a trained nurse took off our shoes, settled us in an easy chair and slipped a transparent inhaling mask over our face.

A few minutes on pure oxygen and we felt fine and said so. "Of course you do," said the boss. "Much better for you than cocktails."

"Well, how about another for the road?" we asked him. He struck a sobering note. "Sorry. Strictly rationed —you can get high on too much oxygen," he told us firmly.

* * *

"Give me a girl of 16 or 17 and I'll finish her in two or three terms." The speaker is the elegant Comtesse de la Calle, principal of the most exclusive, most costly school, set in the heart of the most exclusive, costly quarter of Paris.

No ordinary school this — the comtesse takes over where the others leave off.

For the privilege of having the rough edges knocked off their little darlings, proud parents pay around $450 for a 12-week term.

The girls are taught to walk gracefully, to stand easily. But no athletics. They have to speak French all the time. And other required subjects include cooking, ironing, dressmaking, elocution, history, literature, history of art, history of Paris and French civilization.

French civilization, by the way, does not include visits to such places as the Folies Bergere. Only visits to art galleries and churches.

And never alone. Always with a chaperone.

Which is rather odd. For the real aim for nine out of 10 of the girls is simple. They want to get their man (well-heeled and out of the social top drawer) and this school gives them an odds-on chance in the marriage mart.

Scholarship Tea Plans Announced

The Scholarship Tea of the University Women's Club of Victoria will be held on Saturday, March 30, at the Oak Bay Beach Hotel. Members and their friends will gather annually at [illegible] scholarship winners and to raise funds for scholarships to students of Victoria College.

This year, in addition to increasing the amount offered to the highest woman student in the first year of the Faculty of Arts and Science to $200, the club has established the Rosalind E. Young Scholarship offered to the highest woman student in the Faculty of Education.

Guests will be welcomed by Mrs. M. F. Smith, president; Mrs. A. J. Butterfield and Mrs. C. D. Stockdill.

Mrs. W. G. Dempsey, social convener, who is in charge of the arrangements, has invited Dr. Irene Clearihue, Mrs. J. F. K. English, Mrs. W. H. Hickman, Mrs. J. D. Durand, Dr. Olga Jardine, Dr. Gwladys Downes, Miss Nan Eaton, and Miss Marian James to pour tea.

PATTERN M300

"Sissy" Front Shirtdress Leads Americana Spring Fashions

PROMINENT DESIGNER

Of all shirtwaist styles, the new season's "sissy" front stands apart as the most flattering version of all time. Tucks with eyelet embroidery, tucks with lace, tucks with embroidered edgings! Simply marvellous for giving a slim, long-waisted look if you are a size 20, and emphasizing shapely contours if you are a size 10. This McMullen original is in the whitest of white cottons with eyelet trim. You can make it even more glamorous in silk with glittering buttons. Make it in solid colors or in a new floral print—and in any of three smart sleeve lengths!

Pattern M300 is available in misses' sizes 10, 12, 14, 16, 18 and 20. Size 16 requires 5¼ yards 35-inch fabric.

Send 50 cents (in coins) for Pattern M300 to The Daily Colonist, Pattern Department, 60 Front Street West, Toronto, Ont. Please print plainly your name, address with zone, style, number and size.

LaVerne Clarke A Recent Bride At St. Luke's

Canon Frederick Pike heard marriage vows of LaVerne Dorrell Clarke and Arthur Ralph Russell at a ceremony in St. Luke's Church recently.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Clarke, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Russell, all of Victoria.

Arrangements of daffodils, tulips and pussy willows decorated the church for the afternoon ceremony at which the bride was given in marriage by her father. For the wedding, she wore a grey suit with pink and navy accessories, a small pink hat and a bouquet of pink rosebuds. Her pearl earrings were the groom's gift.

Her only attendant was Miss Bonnie Henderson of Nanaimo, who wore a powder blue suit with navy accessories and carried a colonial bouquet of pink and white carnations.

Mr. Harry Bartlett of Qualicum Beach was best man and ushers were Mr. Thomas McConnell and Mr. Ralph Pettie. Mr. Harry Bur[illegible] bride at a reception at the Monterey restaurant.

For travelling to Seattle for a honeymoon, the bride wore a beige topcoat with her wedding costume. Her corsage was of pink carnations.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell plan to live in Victoria.

Band Members Ask for Jobs

A drive now in progress is to raise funds to send the Belmont High School Band to the annual B.C. Band and Orchestra Concert in Kelowna, B.C., on May 10 and 11.

The boys and girls of the band are asking for work they can do and for which they will be paid instead of soliciting cash. Residents with odd jobs, housework, baby-sitting or any other general chores are asked kindly to contact one of the following: Glen, Lake, Mrs. F. Mosely, 8-3108; Langford, Mrs. C. Chisholm, 8-3511; Colwood, Mrs. E. Peterson, 8-1552, and Metchosin, Mrs. C. Anders, 8-3687. Arrangements will then be made for a band worker in each district.

New Saucepans Get Design Tag

By CAROLYN WILLETT

OTTAWA (CP)—Well-designed Canadian products—56 of them—now are wearing black and gold cardboard tags, insignia of the 1957 Design Awards.

Pots and pans, furniture, toys and even a stepladder are among the items displayed in the Design Centre's showroom here.

The items, examples of excellence in form, function and originality and of good value, will eventually be shown in other Canadian centres.

This is the sixth year the National Industrial Design Council, an extension of the National Gallery, has sponsored design awards.

DUAL PURPOSE

Design expert Norman Hay, the centre's acting director, says the aim of the awards is to promote better design in consumer products and to encourage manufacturers to use the talents of Canadian designers.

Judges selected items suitable and efficient for their function or purpose. For instance tea pots that represent a little girl watering flowers are out.

PLEASING FURNITURE

"The furniture generally pleases me," he said. "It's refined, clean, has some sophistication and would stand out in any international exhibition."

Among the Design Award "firsts" is a series of saucepans, made in Canada to combine the qualities of aluminum and stainless steel for the first time in kitchenware history.

The cooking utensile have aluminum bottoms for better heat diffusion and stainless steel lids for long wear and stain resistance.

There's a do-it-yourself furniture kit for girls, made of sturdy polished birch with pieces easily pulled apart or put together.

Displayed beside a new power mower with handle-controlled speeds and refrigerators and stoves, visitors find a solid-looking stepladder.

The stepladder isn't as comfortable as the award-winning Stratford Festival folding chair with a foam rubber back and seat. But the ladder has ingeniously-arranged hinges that slide and adjust when it's placed on rough or uneven ground so the climber can avoid spills.

Sew-Easiest!

Printed Pattern

Easy sewing with this printed pattern—it's a pleasure to make, a pleasure to wear! Cool and comfortable—the ideal dress for sunning, gardening, household chores. You'll want to own several in gay cotton checks, prints!

Printed pattern 9114: Misses' sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, 20. Size 16 requires 3⅞ yards 35-inch fabric.

Printed directions on each pattern part. Easier, faster, accurate.

Send forty cents (40c) in coins (stamps cannot be accepted) for this pattern. Please print plainly size, name, address, style number.

Sister Superior Receives Guests

Sister Mary Angelus, superior of St. Joseph's Hospital, received guests at the annual silver tea and linen shower sponsored by the Ladies' Auxiliary.

Mrs. J. A. McLellan, convener of the tea, was assisted by Mrs. C. N. Montague. The latter, who was in charge of floral arrangements, used iris, tulips and snapdragons to center the lace-covered tea table at which Mrs. P. B. Scurrah, Mrs. A. J. R. Ash, Mrs. F. E. Norris, Mrs. A. C. Wurtele, Mrs. J. F. Dunn and Mrs. W. J. Mosedale presided.

During the tea hour guests were entertained with Irish melodies presented by students of St. Ann's Academy under the direction of Sister Mary Germaine. Choruses by Grade 4 pupils and by a group of music students, and solos by Susan Bezanta and Sharon Sinnot were also on the program. Little Maureen Murphy and David Kelpin presented "The Hole in the Bucket," and Mrs. James Bull, a member of the auxiliary, also contributed to the program.

Assisting Sister Mary Angelus in the receiving line were Mrs. C. Rose, president; Mrs. E. T. W. Nash, Mrs. F. G. Stuart and Mrs. V. M. Smith. Hostesses were Mrs. E. N. Boettcher and Mrs. W. Cochrane.

In charge of tea arrangements were Mrs. F. H. Elliott and Mrs. E. Michaux; refreshments, Mrs. H. A. Humber, Miss M. King, Mrs. P. Sallaway, Mrs. P. W. Semenchuck and Mrs. G. Walther; silver donations, Mrs. J. Bull, Mrs. M. Donovan, Mrs. A. Janzen and Mrs. C. W. Nash; linens, Mrs. O. D. Davis, Mrs. P. J. Sinnott and Miss C. Merritt.

Serviteurs were Mrs. W. M. Elliott, Mrs. I. M. Major, Mrs. E. MacDonald, Mrs. E. H. O'Neil, Mrs. E. Prevost and Mrs. E. D. Price.

Gifts consisted of 351 pieces of linen and cash donations amounting to $400.

SABA'S GENIAL STAFF LOOKS FORWARD TO FORTHCOMING STORE EXPANSION

At present Saba's are busily engaged in replanning the entire store in order that the sportswear department may be greatly enlarged for the convenience of growing numbers of shoppers.

Pictured above are Mrs. Helene Abondance and Mrs. Beverly Turner eagerly discussing a new sportswear importation. These two affable saleladies are keenly anticipating the enlargement of their department.

Friendliness, with well placed advice and assistance, is the keynote of our service . . . which you will note the moment you are greeted by Mrs. Abondance, a comparative newcomer to Saba's. Her gay Parisian charm is refreshing and captivating, and her knowledge of her department makes her invaluable to customers. When someone wants just the right blouse or sweater, Helene invariably manages to produce it.

Mrs. Turner has a flair for the smart and the chic, and a style-sense that is a great help to those who come to her with fashion problems. She possesses excellent taste and will be only too happy to advise and make suggestions with regard to the new styles and fabrics which we will be introducing in our new main floor sportswear department.

Combined with highly personalized service and a high level of quality merchandise, Saba's expanded sportswear department will take in much of the main floor area of the store. However, there will be no lessening of service . . . no "help yourself" attitude. Service will continue to be highly individualized and attentive . . . with a host of new merchandise . . . skirts, play clothes, swim suits, blouses, sweaters . . . everything to round out the smart woman's wardrobe.

You will enjoy shopping at Saba's where the friendly and casual atmosphere is notably marked with competence and attention to detail. Pay us a visit soon, at 1130 Douglas Street.

With Floral Clothes

Flower Fragrances Popular Again

Mrs. J. P. Empey, 1421 Chambers Street, right, pictured with her sister, Mrs. Al Austin of Toronto. When Mrs. Austin arrived here a short time ago it was the first time the sisters had met for 40 years. Mrs. Austin will stay in Victoria about three weeks. —(Photo by Bud Kinsman.)

NEW YORK—This spring women will not only look like walking floral displays—they'll have the fragrance of a floral bouquet as well.

This spring not only dresses but hats and even shoes have taken to masses of brilliant posies. What could be more natural, then, that the Fragrance Foundation reports a fashion revival in floral scents? From all over the country some reports of new interest in such classics as carnation, gardenia, jasmin and lilac.

Not that floral scents have ever been completely out of the picture. But the top perfume favorites for some years have been what women thought of as "sophisticated" perfumes, with their emphasis on woodsy and spicy notes, are not losing their attractiveness. But women who once bought only this type are now taking home as well flacons of pure florals.

The Foundation has some interesting pointers on wearing these floral scents. These differ in their effects from modern types, which are always blends. This means that the perfumes you have probably been wearing for several years actually have several different scents.

But a pure floral smells only of itself—rose, carnation, lily of the valley, etc. Since the steady scent of one flower can easily pall, have several to change about from day to day.

The Fragrance Foundation suggests that you buy both the toilet water and the perfume of a pure floral scent. Use the toilet water liberally all over after your morning shower. When you've finished dressing, add just a touch of the perfume at all the pulse points—wrists, crook of the elbows, throat, ears.

Daily use in this manner will build up a delicate, feminine aura of scent which will seem to breathe forth from your own floral-clad self, but will not be insistant.

If you're wearing patterns of flowers, or use those fragrances to match them with no scents, like poppies, to your new floral dresses or then add a perfume which is a blend of floral scents.

Cleverest way to wear floral is that mix flowers, or use those to your new floral dresses or then add a perfume which is a blend of floral scents. Fabrics with cabbage roses, lilac bunches, violets or other obvious counterparts in hats.

The Victoria Business and Professional Women's Club will hold a supper meeting on Monday, March 25, at 6:15 p.m., in the clubrooms, 902 Government Street. Cmdr. L. S. Day will be the guest speaker, his subject being "Australia," illustrated by colored movies.

5 CARD OF THANKS

The memory of the kindness and sympathy shown us by our relatives and friends in Victoria and Vancouver will remain with us through the years. We want you all to know that we are truly grateful for your comfort you have given us in our sorrow. Special thanks to the Sisters, nurses and staff of the St. Joseph's Hospital, Dr. N. R. Trollope and Rev. Canon H. Carr.—Bert Pegg and family.

We wish to extend our sincere thanks and appreciation for the many kindly messages of sympathy and beautiful floral offerings received from our many friends in our sad bereavement in the loss of our dear loved husband and father. We especially thank Padre Godfrey, officers and personnel of the R.C.N.—Mrs. Dorothy Clark and daughters.

6 IN MEMORIAM

BROWN—In loving memory of Joan Sylvia Brown, (nee Pearce), who passed away March 25, 1946.
In our home she is always remembered,
Sweet memories cling to her name,
Those who loved her in life sincerely,
Still love her in death just the same.
—Sadly missed by Mother, sisters and brothers.

LITTLE—James, In loving memory of our dear husband, dad and grandad, who passed away March 25, 1954.
Ever loved, ever remembered by his wife and family.

MERTON—In loving memory of our mother and grandmother, Margaret Merton, who passed away March 25, 1954.
Sadly missed by her daughter, Flo, and son-in-law Laurie Wigley and granddaughters Florence and Norma.

TV TALK

By Bruce Lowther

Prestige means almost as much as ratings to the TV network, and he who wins at 8 p.m. Sunday is considered the prestige champ.

Lately, NBC's Steve Allen has been cutting into the ratings of CBS's Ed Sullivan at that time, even when Allen has two or three second-rung stars against [illegible] lineup. Most TViewers are interested enough in the medium to wonder why, and NBC executives Jules Green and Alan Courtney — while admittedly prejudiced for their boy — have some good reasons.

"Something is wrong—all I can hear is 'I Love Lucy'."

People are attracted to Allen because his guest stars always perform while many of Sullivan's guests simply stand up; because of such Allen features as crazy shots, man-on-the-street and report-to-the-nation; and because TViewers know that they can get "intelligence, freshness and good taste" from Allen.

* * *

Allen and Sullivan both look good today, but the big shows are Claire Bloom in "First Love," the Lizzie Borden drama and ballet on Omnibus, and Dave Beck's appearance on Face The Nation.

As for movies, "Tales of Hoffman" is on two channels and will be on two more later this week. "Boomerang" and "Picture of Dorian Grey" also look good.

* * *

TV BITS: Ed Murrow has landed Elizabeth Taylor and new hubby, Mike Todd for Person to Person, April 5. Unfortunately, the show won't be seen here—Person to Person now is on channel 11 only every other week because of sponsor troubles.

Charles Van Doren, 21's big winner, is about to publish a novel called "The Murdoch Way," set in the Middle Ages . . . CBS has decided to cancel Hey Jeannie after this season . . . Frankie Laine is expected to be a summer replacement for Arthur Godfrey again . . . ABC is trying to hire Teresa Brewer for a variety show next fall. She would join a stable of stars already including Frank Sinatra, Pat Boone and Guy Mitchell . . . Marion Hargrove, who wrote some funny books a decade ago, is one of the writers for the proposed TV series starring pantomimist Ben Blue . . . Circle Theatre may do a show on the Dead Sea scrolls.

Today's Best

11.30—Walter Reuther on Youth Wants to Know (channel 4); authors Lillian ("Strange Fruit") Smith and Stephen ("Gamesmanship") Potter on Last Word (channels 11 and 12).

1.00—Odyssey shows a film about French peasants (channels 11 and 12).

2.00—Film of U.S. vice-president Nixon's trip to Ghana and other parts of Africa (channels 11 and 12).

2.30—McBoing-Boing and "Lion Hunt," "The Last Knight" and "The Persistent Mr. Fulton" (channels 11 and 12).

4.00—Ray Bolger's guests include Patti Page, Jim Backus (channel 4).

5.00—Teamster boss Dave Beck faces the nation (channel 11).

5.30—Huge Haas in "Escape" on Telephone Time (channel 11).

6.00—Air Power and "Kamikaze" (channel 11).

7.00—Jack Benny in Paris, with Maurice Chevalier (channels 11 and 12).

8.00—Ed Sullivan hosts Ben Blue, Don Ameche, Renata Tebaldi (channel 2); Sullivan with Ella Fitzgerald, Julie London, Rodgers and Hammerstein preview "Cinderella" (channels 11 and 12).

8.00—Steve Allen with Lou Costello, Greer Garson (channel 4).

9.00—Claire Bloom, a fine actress, in "First Love" (channel 4); Omnibus does a drama and the Morton Gould ballet on Lizzie Borden (channel 5); Bob Cummings in "Too Good With a Gun" on GE Theatre (channel 11).

10.00—Anna Maria Alberghetti in "Emergency" on Loretta Young Theatre (channel 4).

Movie Lineup

2.00—"Man From Thunder River," channel 4. Wild Bill Elliott.

2.00—"None Shall Escape," channel 5.

3.45—"Riders to the Stars," channel 11. Bill Lundigan.

5.00—"Red Stallion," channel 12.

5.00—"Wagon Master," channel 13. Joanne Dru.

7.00—"Tales of Hoffman," channel 6. Moira Shearer.

10.30—"Northwest Territory," channel 13.

10.35—"Boomerang," channel 12. Dana Andrews. Good.

11.00—"Picture of Dorian Grey," channel 5. George Sanders, Donna Reed. Good.

11.15—"Tales of Hoffman," channel 2, part two.

11.15—"Song of Nevada," channel 11. Roy Rogers.

What Can You Expect of Kimberchiks?

This Leghorn strain cross netted $4.23 INCOME OVER FEED COST in the three random sample tests in which it was entered in 1955-56. In 10½ months of age it averaged 264 eggs per pullet, in 16½ months it laid 349 eggs per pullet. The average liveability to 24½ weeks was 95.6% with eggs weighing 26 ounces per dozen during the first laying cycle. In all the 1955-56 random sample tests it was first for early egg size.

The K-Lit Kimberchix does very well in cages or on floor litter in some areas 90% of the Kimber Leghorns are on wire.

Rita Del Mar's Daily Astrology

SUNDAY, MARCH 24

Today's quotation: "Every day that is born into the world comes like a burst of music, and rings itself all day through; and thou shalt make of it a dance, a dirge, or a life march, as thou wilt."—Carlyle.

Sunday for everyone: This day favors getting around, catching up with correspondence, trips, reading, religious, philosophical matters and visits. Exchange views, ideas; see relatives and loved ones; enjoy yourself.

Look for Your Birthdate and Birthsign Below

March 21 to April 19 (Aries)—See those in positions of prominence; attend to accounts, money matters.

April 20 to May 20 (Taurus)—Make plans, appointments; travel; visit; get out and mix freely.

May 21 to June 20 (Gemini)—Give time, thought, attention to money matters, belongings, necessities.

June 21 to July 22 (Cancer)—Seek the company of those with whom you can have fun; exert your talents.

July 23 to Aug. 22 (Leo)—See those who are ill; perform an unasked service; attend to home, family, finances.

Aug. 23 to Sept. 22 (Virgo)—Give pleasure and seek it; get around and see people; visit, communicate.

Sept. 23 to Oct. 22 (Libra)—Home or with family is a good place to be. Attend to finances, wardrobe.

Oct. 23 to Nov. 21 (Scorpio)—See relatives, neighbors; exert your charms, magnetism; have fun.

Nov. 23 to Dec. 21 (Sagittarius)—Attend to budgets, possessions, accounts; catch up with rest; be at home.

Dec. 22 to Jan. 19 (Capricorn)—Be co-operative, charming; seek the company of friends; add to your circle.

Jan. 20 to Feb. 18 (Aquarius)—Forward private, financial interests; see parents, higher-ups; solve problems.

Feb. 19 to March 20 (Pisces)—Be friendly; seek advice; travel; forward religious, philosophical matters.

Planning ahead—Good for entertaining, sociability, etc.: March 24, afternoon and evening of 25, 26, evening of 27, 30, 31; April 2.

MONDAY, MARCH 25

Today's quotation: "Many married women would be happier and their homes more successful if they looked upon their husbands as persons to enjoy and not as possessions to be owned."—Thomas Dewier.

Monday for everyone: The day is mainly favorable, although prior to early afternoon there is a tendency to irritability or inharmony. Shun haste, upsets then. Reason and analysis can provide the answer to problems, questions.

Look for Your Birthdate and Birthsign Below

March 21 to April 19 (Aries)—Friends and associates can be helpful, particularly during the late afternoon and evening. Be diplomatic, careful earlier.

April 20 to May 20 (Taurus)—Be conscientious in the pursuit of regular tasks to early afternoon. Promote ambitions later.

May 21 to June 20 (Gemini)—Use care en route during the morning and early afternoon. Later: make plans, decisions; give some thought to your future.

June 21 to July 22 (Cancer)—Protect mutual resources, exert economy in the morning and early afternoon. Later: seek to benefit through the contacts and chances others make available.

July 23 to Aug. 22 (Leo)—Use tact in dealings with others in the morning and early afternoon. Later: associate with another or others in whatever you undertake.

Aug. 23 to Sept. 22 (Virgo)—Protect your health, employment interests; shun haste until early afternoon. Later: make progress in connection with the foregoing.

Sept. 23 to Oct. 22 (Libra)—Maintain cordial relationships to early afternoon. Take no chances. Later: promote educational interests, talents; have fun.

Oct. 23 to Nov. 21 (Scorpio)—Follow routine to early afternoon. Steer clear of upsets. Later: attend to matters having to do with home, office or base.

Nov. 22 to Dec. 21 (Sagittarius)—To early afternoon: use care en route, tact in what you say or sign. Afternoon: exert resourcefulness; get around; see people.

Dec. 22 to Jan. 19 (Capricorn)—Be thrifty, careful in money matters to early afternoon. Later: buy, sell, effect savings; attend to assets, accounts.

Jan. 20 to Feb. 18 (Aquarius)—Your personal interests are apt to be to the fore. You can make progress in late afternoon and evening. Exert tact, discretion, good judgment earlier.

Feb. 19 to March 20 (Pisces)—Late afternoon and evening provide the best times for solving problems, attending to background issues. Earlier: play safe.

Planning ahead—Good for entertaining, sociability, etc. Afternoon and evening of March 25; March 26, evening of 27, 30, 31; April 2, 9, 10, 12, 13.

THE VOICE OF ONE

By REV. DR. FRANK S. MORLEY

Trustees of Westminster Church, Pittsburgh, have come up with a brand new idea for churches. They have taken out "product liability insurance." This protects the policy holder against a claim for damage resulting from the product! The Christian Century reports the minister, John Galbreath, as much depressed by this. "Are my sermons that bad?" moaned the poor fellow.

Is doctor?

All one has to do in this country is live long enough and he'll become a doctor) you should be flattered. You are remarkable. A minister was described by an old Scottish lady as "a poor, harmless sort of body." Alas, that describes too many of us.

We resemble the janitor who explained his ability to get along with the various organizations, "I just throw my mind into neutral and go where I'm pushed. Like the Duke of Marlborough's private chaplain who was called by John Byng "the subservient Dr. Tickle-text."

Isn't the greatest praise you can give a man today to say, "Everybody liked him"? (Don't ask whether everybody liked Socrates—they fed him poison; or whether everyone liked Jesus—the crowd shouted, "Crucify Him!") Blot out your eccentricities. Never criticize. Never condemn.

Praise Everybody

Praise the young people: "Finest generation the world has known." Praise everybody. Didn't you read where a movie reviewer in a Toronto daily got his comeuppance for daring to criticize the movies? If you want to get on the radio or in television sing hillbilly songs—don't have controversial ideas.

A man referred reproachfully to my sermons. He advised me to take lessons from a certain popular broadcaster. "I could listen to him all day long," he said admiringly. "He soothes me. Sometimes I go to sleep on the chesterfield listening to him."

One of our prominent ministers was asked for a soothing sermon. He admits agreeing to the request, but next week the man who made it was revealed as a notorious sinner.

Mr. Galbraith (it was probably "Mr." if his sermons are dangerous) should be comforted to know that he is the great tradition. What a mess Jesus made of the business in the Temple! Some naive souls suggest that Jesus never interfered in politics or business, but He certainly wasn't crucified for saying "Behold the flowers of the field, how beautifully they smell."

He was crucified because He said, "Behold the Pharisees, how they stink! Behold Herod, that fox!"

"They trouble our city . . . They upset tradition," moaned the civic leaders in Jerusalem and elsewhere referring to the disciples. The rulers of Thessalonica were terrified, "These that have turned the world upside down are come here too!"

Cross of Christ

Van Wyck Brooks describes the Christian faith of Harvard in the mid-nineteenth century as one "that always knew where to draw the line." For true Christians the boundary line has always been the Cross of Christ. A real Christian church has always been able to hang a sign outside, "Danger! God at work!"

So the missionaries have been called "Fighting Angels." The church has been called "The Church Militant." The true prophet, like Jeremiah, has heard God say, "Behold, I will make my words in thy mouth fire."

Charles Cochrane, studying the conflict of Christianity with Greco-Roman culture, says, "The theme of this work is the revolution in thought and action which took place during the first four centuries of the Christian era."

I commend to all ministers the words of Paul to the Philippians as Moffat translates them, "Never be scared for a second of your opponents." Real Christianity has always been dangerous.

"I tell you, Barbara, the Bible doesn't end in Timothy; it ends in Revolutions." Quite right, little girl. The church will continue to upset traditions. We will change the world. We will fight evil. And there isn't any insurance.

Lake Hill Area Forming New Cub Pack

By LT.-COL. R. GIRARD,
District Commissioner, Victoria District

A preliminary organization meeting to form a new Cub pack in the Lake Hill area was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. V. J. Cooley. Members of the district training team under A. R. Chamberlain presented a brief "Scouting Explained' course.

Any parents interested in having their boyd join this group should call Mrs. Cooley at 9-3035. Boys between the ages of 8 and 11 will be admitted into the group when it is organized.

★ ★ ★

Last Wednesday mothers of St. George's Own Scout Group met to form a women's auxiliary. Officers appointed were: president, Mrs. F. E. Waring; vice-president, Mrs. Owen Goward; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. J. H. Harding; publicity, Mrs. Roy Lack.

★ ★ ★

Rover leaders from five of the eight Rover crews in the district met at the home of Dr. Clifford Carl, assistant district commissioner for Rovers. The leaders discussed several plans for joint activities in the district, including a competitive ramble and an orienteering run.

The Rover leaders felt that one of the main barriers to recruitment was that many people did not realize that a young man of 16 does not have to have been a Scout to join Rovers.

There are eight crews in the district and some of these are hampered in activities as some of the original members have moved out of town or gone to university. Any young man 16 to 21 interested in joining Rovers or Sea Rovers should call district headquarters at 2-3915.

★ ★ ★

The third session of the Cub preliminary training course will be held this afternoon at Sidney starting at 1.30. This is an outdoor session and leaders are asked to bring warm clothing. Rambles, nature study and other phases of Cub work will be done.

★ ★ ★

At a recent meeting of the Cadboro Bay Pack 3, cubs invested by the Akela, Mrs. A. R. Mills, were Jack Passin, John Nethen and Calvin Bachelor. Three cubs from other districts have been transferred to the Cadboro Bay Pack. They are Ken and Bryan Hallatt of Vancouver and Bobby Wicks of Haney. Joe Barlow was invested into the Scout troop. The Cadboro Bay Scout troop were hosts to the third Victoria troop at a meeting of competitions and games.

★ ★ ★

Scoutmaster J. F. Cannon and seven Scouts of the 1st Mt. Tolmie troop spent last weekend on a hike to Sooke. The scouts built a bivouac and several boys passed their fire lighting tests despite wet weather and adverse conditions.

★ ★ ★

A very successful father and son banquet was held by the North Quadra troop last Thursday. Dr. Clifford Carl was guest speaker.

After the dinner a display of fire by friction was put on.

★ ★ ★

A family night was held by the Fairfield 'B' Pack on Tuesday. Highlight was the handicraft exhibition. Judges were Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Castle, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Milks and Mrs. Ruth Whiteaker.

John McDonald, Gordon Davies and Tim Soutar won the straw section. Michael Dalzell and Jess Mansley won the paper cup display; Brian Simmons Michael Smethurst and Bill Sanderman won the pipe cleaner section; John Williams and Bruce Hepburn won the soap carving, and Donald Crocker and Gary Allen the picture section.

The ADC for Cubs, Mr. Castle, presented Miss W. L. Lees with the bar to her Long Service Medal. This represents 15 years' leadership. Miss Margaret McClure, who will be married soon was presented with gifts by the Pack and group committee.

ANCIENT WALL

The old Roman Wall which extended three miles around the ancient city of London was built about 85 AD.

French Regime

'Creaking Horror'

French bureaucracy in Morocco is a "creaking horror," touring lecturer Lt.-Col. E. W. Fletcher told the English Speaking Union here Thursday night.

He described for a small audience in the Douglas Building a vivid picture of class distinction and racial discrimination.

Lt.-Col. Fletcher, formerly of the British diplomatic service, spoke of the uprisings of the Moroccans, and of their feelings toward the United States.

Steady Advance

Wonder Drugs Shorten Time Of TB Cure

This is another in a series of articles prepared by the Victoria-Esquimalt Health Department as a public service.

One of the brightest areas in public health since the Second World War has been progress in prevention and treatment of tuberculosis. The advance, slow and steady, has been given tremendous impetus by discovery of antibiotic drugs.

At first it seemed that they could be given to advantage for only several months, but experience has shown that a combination of at least two of these antibiotics should be given for at least 12 months and often longer.

Drugs most frequently used are streptomycin, P.A.S., and I.N.H. The last drug isonicotinic hydrazid, was given premature publicity and concern was expressed that it would not measure up to the standards of safety and effectiveness. It has become clear, however, that this is a highly effective non-toxic drug and present treatment almost always includes it.

We would like to have a somewhat similar drug as effective and easy to take to combine with I.N.H. Lacking this, however, we are very fortunate to have almost as effective drugs in streptomycin and P.A.S.

Hospital Time Cut

Their use has cut the time the patient feels sick and shortened time in the tuberculous hospital and off work. The well known tuberculous regime including bed rest has been modified.

Another bright spot in treatment has been the removal of parts and even whole lungs with the object of removing areas of lung tissue which have not healed fully on drug and rest therapy. These operations have been successful and again have reduced temporary and permanent disability sharply.

However, treatment of already present tuberculosis has not been the primary aim of public health services. It has been felt for years that we should find those with infectious tuberculosis, treat them and remove them from contact.

We have been aided by the general higher standard of living in the past 10 years and by the tendency of people to consult their physician.

Chest X-ray facilities for detection of tuberculosis have been made available.

For the past seven years admission to hospital X-ray on adults has been provided in B.C.

Selected Groups

Travelling and mobile X-ray vans have been used to examine selected groups, notably those in industry or all adults in areas where there is more tuberculosis.

By all these means tuberculosis being discovered today is often less advanced than it was even five years ago.

However, since there are still about 600 new active cases being found in the province each year as well as some who break down among those who have been treated or examined before. Examination of these previously known cases is one of the major functions of the tuberculosis clinics.

One of the happiest features of the present tuberculosis situation is that we can reassure almost all new patients that they will not be disabled permanently to any extent by their disease, and that they are unlikely to die from it.

During 1955-56 there have been no deaths under the age of 20 from tuberculosis in the non-Indian population of B.C., whereas in 1946, 27 children died from tuberculosis. Last year one-half as many persons from the age of 20 to the age of 50 died from tuberculosis as in 1955 and only one-tenth as many as 10 years ago.

Tuberculosis is preventable—frequent X-rays provide early detection. Have you had your X-ray this year?

She's Unique!

Woman Abandons PoW Reunion Idea

Mrs. Eva Boam, 2862 Colquitz, is beginning to believe she is in a class by herself. She is one of the few women prisoners-of-war of the First World War.

A few days ago she suggested a reunion for women PoW's of the First World War, but after some concentrated thinking, could recall only one PoW from that ward and he was a man.

"There was another English woman imprisoned with me but she went to Australia and has since died," Mrs. Boam said.

TAUGHT ENGLISH

Mrs. Boam was in Australia as an English teacher for the children of one of the court physicians to Emperor Franz Josef.

"I was just a political prisoner," she said. "They had nothing against me except that I was English."

She was later sent to Olmutz in what is now Czechoslovakia.

She and the other English woman were not allowed to speak English on the streets.

Mrs. Boam returned to England in 1916 on a prisoner exchange scheme. She and her late husband moved to Canada in 1918 and to Victoria 20 years ago.

"The idea of a reunion struck me as a fine idea but I'm beginning to think there may not be any women to re-unite with."

ATTENTION WRECKERS!

Sealed tenders addressed to the City Clerk, City Hall, Victoria, B.C. and marked "Tender for Demolition", will be received up until noon on Thursday, March 28, 1957, for the demolition and removal of the large single story building of concrete block construction and metal roof situated on the south side of Denman Street between Victor and Shakespeare Streets on the West part of Lots 8, 9, 10 and lot A.W. parts of lots 8 and 9, Plan 916, Victoria, B.C.

Offers will be received only on the tender form supplied for the purpose and available in this office.

Each offer must be accompanied by a certified deposit cheque or money order made payable to the City Treasurer for $50.00. The successful tenderer will be required to enter into a bond in form and sum approved by the City Solicitor for the protection of the City and the proper performance of the work.

If payment is offered for this building it must be made immediately following notice of acceptance of offer and before demolition commences.

The highest or any offer will not necessarily be accepted.

Varying Rates

Engineers to Get Increases in Pay

Operating engineers at the Hudson's Bay Co., the Victoria Public Library and three up-Island hospitals have won wage increases under new contracts to be signed soon, union business agent Edward Callan announced Friday.

In a two-year contract, chief engineer at the Hudson's Bay won a 10 per cent boost effective May 1, and two other engineers an 8.6 per cent increase.

Victoria Public Library's chief engineer's salary was raised 9.5 per cent to $267 a month, and his assistant six per cent to $248, on a one-year contract retroactive to Jan. 1.

About 15 engineers benefit by the wage increases at King's Daughters' Hospital, Duncan; West Coast General Hospital, Port Alberni, and Nanaimo General Hospital.

They won a nine-cent-an-hour boost retroactive to Dec. 1, 1956, in the case of King's Daughters' Hospital, and to Jan. 1 at the other two hospitals; and another nine cents on the first anniversary of the agreements.

The Duncan and Nanaimo engineers also receive 14 days sick leave a month, cumulative to a maximum of 36 days, a clause the Port Alberni workers already had.

Third Reading

House Passes 22 Laws

Third and final reading was given to 22 pieces of legislation and they now require only royal assent before becoming law.

The first acts to be passed this session included legislation providing for tax changes, iron bounties, and the establishment of a new government department of conservation and recreation.

The Constitution Act was amended to provide for a department of industrial development, trade and commerce—which will merely be a widening of the scope of the old department of trade and industry.

The tax changes were for the logging and mining industries.

One lone bill was defeated—a private bill entitled the Metalliferous Mines Regulation Act introduced by Leo Nimsick (CCF, Cranbrook). The bill, which set out to define what constitutes a miner, was defeated on division, 35 to 12.

Legislation which will provide B.C. Hospital Insurance Service coverage to chronically-ill patients as well as the present acute coverage was given the first reading in the legislature Wednesday.

Two bills were introduced by Health Minister Eric Martin.

The first paved the way for the extension of the present 70 cents a day per patient grant by the government from acute cases to include chronic cases.

The second expanded the definition of "hospital" to include convalescent, rehabilitation, and chronic hospitals.

Chronic care cases will come under BCHIS coverage by the end of the year.

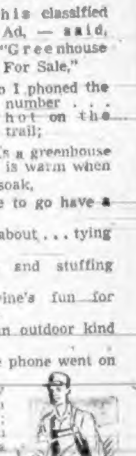
"SMASHING"

BY MAURICE HUMBER

This classified Ad, — said, "Greenhouse For Sale,"
So I phoned the number . . . hot on the trail;
As a greenhouse is warm when the rain does soak,
A pleasant place to go have a smoke.
You can putter about . . . tying knots.
Planting seeds and stuffing pots;
And a grapevine's fun for business men,
It's a sort of an outdoor kind of a den.
The man on the phone went on to say,
"It's practically yours, if you take it away";
It struck us both with rather a shock,
He just lived, in the very next block.
So last Sunday morn, a St. Patrick's Day start,



Of dismantling this greenhouse all apart.
When I got there, in my best old clothes,
A lady was singing, "My Wild Irish Rose."
I knew she was sitting . . . and playing the piano,
A thrilling voice . . . a power soprano.
With my crow-bar . . . I gently pried,
A crashing of glass . . . & she ran outside.
"Be-Gorra," she cried, "sure enuff (hot it doom."
"It's only me . . . Casey . . . lowering the boom."
She laughed, went back & played some more,
'Cause I'd clapped & shouted . . . "Encore . . . Encore."
Then I'd wait for a note to hardly pass,
Wham . . . I'd crash thru . . . with some busted glass.
Neighbors came out & windows were raised,
And my crashing effect was highly praised.
So, I hope Hans Gruber is listening to me,
As I've this smashing new note . . . for his GREAT SYMPHON-EE.

DO YOU REALLY THINK SOMEONE INTENDS TO EXTORT MONEY FROM MISS ROYCE, SIR?
IT'S POSSIBLE, DESMOND—SHE'S WEALTHY AND ALONE—A TEMPTING TARGET.
NOW TO HAVE A CLOSER LOOK AT THE NOTE—OH, OH, I DON'T LIKE THIS!
DON'T LIKE WHAT, SIR?
THE WAY THESE LETTERS WERE CUT OUT, NOTICE THE PECULIAR SCISSORS STROKES...
WHAT DOES IT MEAN?
DON'T TRY TO ESCAPE

DAVID CRANE

WE READ IN OUR BIBLES A BEAUTIFUL STORY OF THE WIDOW'S MITE... IT MAY SEEM TO US THAT IT HAPPENED LONG AGO.
BUT HERE WE HAVE AN EXAMPLE OF THE SAME THING... MISS CARRIE HAS GIVEN SOMETHING VERY DEAR TO HER TO GET OUR NEW CHURCH STARTED... HER TREASURED RECORD COLLECTION.
AND SO I HAVE DECIDED TO TURN DOWN THE CALL TO WELLINGTON AND STAY HERE TO HELP BUILD A NEW CHURCH!
HURRAH!
WONDERFUL!
SOMETIMES A BODY GETS CROSSWAYS WITH THE LORD'S WISHES... I'VE BEEN THAT WAY ABOUT THE NEW CHURCH... SO I'M GIVING $ 300.... NO, PADGILIA IT!... I'LL GIVE $ 600!

LIL ABNER

LET GO, FOSDICK, YOU MANIAC!! I'M THE MAYOR!!
A FINE MAYOR YOU ARE, GOING AROUND STEALING WATCHES!!
IT'S SOMEWHERE ON THIS WATCH CASE HAS SNAPPED HIS BRAIN!!
I CAN HEAR IT!!—IT'S TICKING!!—TICKING!!
HELP!!
EGAD!!—I WAS WRONG AGAIN!!
IT WASN'T ON THE MAYOR!!—IT'S ON HER!! I CAN HEAR IT TICKING!! TICKING!! TICKING!!
GET HIM!!

POLICE STATION!

JULIE JONES

EVE? COME IN, PLEASE.
I'M ON MY WAY, MISS MELLET.
IS—IS SOMETHING THE MATTER WITH YOUR EYES, MISS MELLET?
NOTHING THAT SIX HOURS OF WEEPING WON'T DO. EVE—GRADY'S WALKED OUT OF MY AGENCY—AND MY LIFE!
OH—I'M SO SORRY—
IT WAS MY OWN FAULT—PLAYING GOD WITH A SENSITIVE HUNK OF MAN LIKE GRADY WORLOCK! I—I'LL BE O.K. AS SOON AS I FIND A HANKIE!

ARCHIE

JUGHEAD! WHY AREN'T YOU IN CLASS?
I'M LOOKING FOR MY PENCIL, SIR!
HERE! HERE'S A PENCIL RIGHT IN FRONT OF YOUR NOSE!
OH, NO, SIR! THAT ONE WON'T DO!
IT HAS TO BE A MECHANICAL PENCIL!
WHY??
I'M TAKING MECHANICAL DRAWING!

The Doctor's Viewpoint

'To Protect People'

Many people misunderstand the purpose of the Medical Act in B.C. or for that matter, any other province.

Some think that the chief object of the act is to protect the medical profession, and place its members in a favored position where they can exclude competition. Often such accusations stem from some party or group barred by law from treating the sick.

Around 1858, before we had a medical act, there was just one medical man between Alaska and the American border, and from the Rockies to the Pacific. He was John Sebastian Helmcken, a fine physician—who lived in Victoria.

* * *

However, there were others treating B.C. sick at that time. Old wives, herbalists, Indian medicine men and others, did their best.

These amateurs possibly did a lot of good.

Unfortunately there were others who were charlatans and rogues, some native and some from the colonies to the south. They viewed illness as a source of money, lots of it. They advertised their "abilities" and "cures" widely in the daily press.

* * *

In early editions of the Colonist there are impressive advertisements from "doctors" promising to treat all illnesses for a consideration. Ads were of the circus type, likely to raise false hopes in those really ill.

Before 1886, a medical profession began to develop in Victoria, New Westminster, and other settled parts of the province. These were trained men from Britain.

They saw the damage that was being done by untrained healers and out-and-out quacks, and asked the government to create a proper medical act. This act was passed by the people.

It is important to remember that the act is intended to protect the people: against unqualified practitioners of medicine, quacks, robbers and most vital of all, imperfectly trained medical men.

There is nothing in the act to shield medical men and give them a favored position. On the contrary, it acts as a sort of Great Wall confronting any person who wishes to treat the sick.

It has only one door and one key. The door is the code laid down by the Council of B.C. College of Physicians and Surgeons as requisite for examination of candidates in accordance with the Medical Act. The key is adequate medical education and training, and is available only to the doctor who earns it.

* * *

The act was designed to discipline the men who have been accepted, and to punish them should their professional conduct warrant it. How this actually operates is the subject of our column next week.

If you have not yet made the acquaintance of the end play, today's hand will introduce it in the way that most players first discover it. You play a hand automatically up to a point. Then, just as you are about to take a finesse, you see an extra chance, a play that will win your contract even when the finesse is "off."

West trumps the third diamond lead, draws trumps, and cashes three good clubs, ending in dummy in order to take the spade finesse. He leads a low spade, but, instead of playing the queen, he notices that his eight-spot will beat South's card and force North to win the trick. Whatever North leads back will give West his contract. A spade lead pitches into the teeth of the ace-queen; any other lead lets dummy ruff while declarer discards the queen of spades, making the finesse unnecessary.

Note the essential elements of this classic end play. Declarer and dummy are stripped of all their cards in two suits. Each remains with a trump. The combination of cards in the remaining side suit permit North to be thrown in while leaving declarer with an impregnable combination. No matter how the cards are placed, the defenders cannot win more than the single trick that declarer can afford to surrender.

WINNING POINTS

If you can afford to lose a trick, look, for a way to make it insure the safety of your contract.

Flooding Fear Sparks Petition

Members of Glen Lake, Luxton, Happy Valley Ratepayers' Association hope to complete this weekend a petition to form the area into an improvement district to halt flooding.

The petition must be signed by 70 per cent of the population of the district for it to become effective. If sufficient names are gathered the association will approach the provincial government for aid with the district's flooding and drainage problems.

Spring daffodils and other flowers are bursting into bloom at Beacon Hill Park, and Janis Stolzenberg and David Robinte, both six years old, find it hard to resist picking them.—(Colonist photo by Jim Ryan.)

Display of Glory Beacon Hill Aim

More than 30,000 colorful annuals will transform Beacon Hill Park's flower beds into a blaze of color this summer.

Nine gardeners are already busy in the park nursery preparing for the planting of seedlings.

Chief gardener Alex Johnston said some of the perennials, mainly heather and saxifrage, are creating a beautiful show already and the spring bulb flowers are starting to burst into bloom.

THE BIG SHOW

Forget-me-nots, tulips, polyanthus, anemones, Iceland poppies and pansies will add to the spring display. But summer will bring the big show, especially in July and August.

"Every flower bed will be different and we hope this year's display will be even more beautiful than that of last year, when some 150,000 flower lovers marvelled at the park gardens," Mr. Johnston said.

There will be more marigolds than anything else this year — 5,000 of them, with plants from three inches to three feet in height and flowers in the typical marigold shades of yellows, orange, bronze and mahogany.

Among the most striking shows will be the begonia beds in which will be planted more than 4,000 tuberous and seedling types.

Other flowers will include 2,000 snapdragons, 1,000 fuchsia and 1,200 dahlias of seedling and name varieties.

About 500 sweet peas will be used to give height to the beds and 1,000 lobelia for edging.

Set among stately oaks, cedars and maples, and the ornamental cherry, flowering plum and crabapple trees is the park's famous rose garden, one of the most complete on this continent.

The planned summer display will include the world's finest varieties of every color except blues and greens.

Basic Course For Grade 9 Described

An outline of the terminal course taught at S. J. Willis Junior High School was given Victoria and District Parent-Teacher Council Friday by school principal B. C. Gillie.

The special Grade 9 course was introduced at S. J. Willis four years ago. The complete program is contained in one year with no continuation at Grade 10."

A resolution against the institution of terminal courses will be presented at the coming Parent-Teacher Federation convention.

Mr. Gillie said the basic course, drafted by the department of education four years ago, was designed for students of low academic ability and who normally leave school during Grade 9.

SOOKE—Examinations on the recently completed civil defence first aid course at Sooke will be given Wednesday at 7 p.m. in the Sooke school.

Civil defence officer P. W. deP. Taylor has complimented the class on its good attendance and work during the past nine weeks.

Pride Should Boost Local Improvements

Growing desire to enhance the appearance, safety and convenience of residential streets in Victoria by local-improvement plan leads city authorities to hope for a new high level of such work this year.

In 1955, local improvements were carried out in 38 residential streets. Last year the [illegible] year it is expected to rise still higher.

Cost of the work is divided among all owners in the block on the frontage basis, and is added to regular taxes.

Gravel-and-oil roadwork is done free by the city, topsoil and grass-seed for boulevards is supplied.

Two main types of local improvement are carried out: in the "A" type, the sidewalk is separated from the curb and gutter by boulevard; in the "B" type, the boulevard is between the sidewalk and the property line.

These are some sample 1956 costs for a 50-foot lot, both total and spread over a 15-year period:

Type "A": Sidewalk only, $198 ($13 a year); sidewalk, curb and gutter, $244 ($23.50); sidewalk, curb and gutter, driveway and crosswalks on 60-foot right of way, $302 ($29); sidewalk, curb and gutter, driveway and paving, 60-foot right of way, $397 ($38).

Type "B": Combined sidewalk, curb and gutter, $212 ($20); sidewalk, curb and gutter, driveway on 60-foot right of way, $270 ($26); sidewalk, curb and gutter, crosswalk, driveway and paving on 60-foot right of way, $376 ($36).
